Dear Fellow Investor,

The table below shows the performance of the Fundsmith Equity Fund (the “Sub-Fund”) – a Sub-Fund of the Fundsmith SICAV (“Fund” or “SICAV”) and other comparators during the first half of 2023 and since inception. Please note the differing start dates for the various share classes, noted below the table.

The Sub-Fund is not managed with reference to any benchmark, the above comparators are provided for information purposes only.

The T Class Accumulation shares in Euros were up by 10.9% in the first six months of the year, 1.7 percentage points less than what is perhaps the most obvious comparator — the MSCI World Index (EUR net). (Note we do not hedge currency exposure and so the main difference in performance between the different currency share classes is due to currency movements in the period. These currency movements also impact the performance of the comparator, MSCI World Index.)

What did well for us in the first six months of 2023? Here are the five biggest positive contributors to performance:

Stock	Attribution
Microsoft	+2.9%
Meta Platforms	+2.7%
L'Oréal	+1.6%
Novo Nordisk	+1.2%
LVMH	+1.1%

Source: Northern Trust

Microsoft continued to perform well despite revenue growth slowing.

At this stage last year Meta was one of our largest detractors and we wrote, ‘Meta’s stock now trades on a FCF yield of 8.7%. At this level it is either cheap or a so-called value trap. We will let you know which when we find out, but we are inclined to believe it is the former.’ We have now had at least a partial answer to that question, with the stock up 70% over the past year, although we are too paranoid to ever declare victory. What might this illustrate? Clearly that Meta’s share price performance has been volatile, and here’s the important point, it is much more volatile than its fundamental performance, which should be our primary focus. Plus, we all need to try to ignore the cacophony of noise from commentators which can be useless, or worse where they have an axe to grind.

L'Oréal continues to impress with its execution, particularly in China and online, which are inextricably linked. This is in sharp contrast to Estée Lauder, of which more later. LVMH is similarly impressive.

We touched upon Novo Nordisk last year when it also appeared. It has a runaway success with its obesity drug Wegovy. The main feature of commentary on the stock this year has been about actual or potential competition-from Eli Lilly, maybe from Sanofi, Boehringer Ingelheim and Zealand Pharma, and from generic (and probably some illegal) formulations.

Such concerns often strike us as one dimensional. Did anyone really think that there will only be one drug to service an ailment (obesity) which is of such pandemic proportions that annual revenues of USD 54 billion are estimated by 2030. It reminds me of the often breathless commentary we get about the latest fintech start-up in payment processing and the threat they pose to the incumbents such as Mastercard and Visa. The payment processing market is so large and growing so fast that there is room for several competitors and they may also help win acceptance for the product and in so doing expand the market. It is not a zero-sum game.

Nonetheless we should expect a continuing tsunami of comments on obesity drugs and Novo Nordisk in which the words competition, side effects and celebrity drug are bandied about with careless abandon like a game of buzzword bingo; and national health services and insurers are cited ad infinitum or even ad nauseum. You can often judge what should happen by the opposite of what many of them propose-as Churchill remarked in another context, they will do the right thing after having exhausted all the other possibilities.

The five biggest detractors from our Sub-Fund's performance during the period were:

Stock	Attribution
Estée Lauder	-1.1%
Waters	-0.9%
ADP	-0.4%
Mettler-Toledo	-0.4%
Nike	-0.2%

Source: Northern Trust

Estée Lauder is the only one of the five which concerns us. It fell in response to poor figures occasioned by a build-up, and subsequent write-off, of stock accumulated in anticipation of a reopening of travel by the Chinese after the lockdown. Whilst domestic travel has returned, it seems that Chinese consumers are buying watches, handbags, and other luxury goods first which it was harder to shop for online during the lockdown. It has revealed some severe weakness in Estée Lauder's supply chain with no manufacturing capability in Asia.

We hold Estée Lauder as a complementary cosmetics company to L'Oréal, with strength in America, prestige and traditional distribution channels in contrast to L'Oréal's strengths in China, mass market and online. We await to see how the recent debacle is handled.

Waters and Mettler-Toledo have both been affected by the slowdown in laboratory expenditures post the pandemic. In neither case are we bothered by this. In fact, we hope it presents an opportunity for us to buy more.

ADP has been affected by macroeconomic concerns about the labour market after a strong 2022.

Nike's shares had a weak period following a strong performance post the pandemic lows, where we bought them, and some reduction in gross margins as they worked to clear excess stock.

On valuation, the free cash flow ('FCF') yield on the portfolio, which had ended 2022 at 3.1%, fell to about 2.7% at the end of June 2023 through a combination of the rise in share prices and continuing disruption in the conversion of profits into cash and consequent lack of free cash flow growth. It is impossible to be definitive with half year numbers, given seasonality and the fact that it is a short period, but our portfolio is more expensive than the S&P 500 Index on this measure although the S&P contains some extreme numbers such as major oil companies and some healthcare providers apparently on FCF yields of 20% or more.

Our portfolio turnover in the first half was 2.9%. Voluntary dealing (dealing not caused by redemptions or subscriptions) cost EUR 164,930 during the half year (0.002% or a 0.2 of a basis point). The Ongoing Charges Figure for the T Class Accumulation shares was 1.08% and with the cost of all dealing added, the Total Cost of Investment was 1.09%.

The most noteworthy item of turnover was probably our sale of Amazon which we had begun purchasing only in July 2021. The immediate cause of the sale was our concern over potential capital misallocation. Relatively new CEO Andy Jassy enunciated some principles of investment which investment projects had to have, namely:

1. Be big and capable of delivering good returns on capital.
2. Serve an area of the market in which consumers are not already well served.
3. Amazon had to have a differentiated approach to competitors' and;
4. Amazon had to have or be able to acquire the competence to execute.

Our view was that there was a lot to like about that statement, and it gave us some comfort in purchasing a stock we had shied away from before. However, it is always easier to talk the talk than it is to walk the walk and the CEO's pronouncement that he wanted Amazon to seek routes to get bigger in grocery retail ran counter to all these principles. In our view grocery retail has none of these characteristics and Amazon has already stubbed its toe in this sector with the Whole Foods acquisition.

Moreover, our recent experience of engagement with companies which we believe are making capital allocation and other mistakes has produced a much longer list of those who have ignored us than of those who have listened and so we are likely to be more active in exiting such situations where we disagree with the manner in which our investors' capital is being allocated. Where companies choose to invest outside a powerful core franchise in which they already have expertise we believe they are likely to destroy value, and especially so where they are entering a sector which already has poor returns.

A similar thought process led us to exit Adobe.

Whilst I suspect that the Sub-Fund price performance is and will remain the primary focus of our investors, we try to remain focused on what is happening with the fundamental performance of these businesses.

At this time last year, we noted that despite the generally poor share price performances, the revenue growth of our portfolio was strong, bordering on very strong at some of our companies, albeit we noted prophetically that we might well be concerned about their ability to replicate this performance over the next couple of years.

Where are we now?

The past six months have seen a slowdown in revenue growth from our technology companies, a resilient performance from our healthcare stocks and continued pressure on the profitability of our consumer businesses.

Large technology companies have in a sense become victims of their own success. Their growth over the past decade means that they are now such a large part of the economies in which they operate that they have become inevitably more cyclical. At the time of the 2008-2009 recession, Apple, Microsoft, Alphabet and Meta had combined sales of USD 125 billion. Today, Apple generates three times that number on its own and the combined sales of these four companies are as near as makes no difference USD 1 trillion. As a result, the economic slowdown means that where Microsoft grew sales at 18% last year, we are looking at more like 7% this year. Meta is growing at about 8% where growth was previously well over 20%. Apple and Alphabet will almost certainly have down years in 2023 but we expect a decent bounce back in 2024.

In the healthcare sector, businesses like Stryker continue to benefit from pent-up demand after COVID which drove revenue growth in the company's most recent quarterly results of 13%, several points above its historical run rate. Others like Coloplast or IDEXX remain metronome-like in their reliability and generated revenue growth of 8% and 10% respectively. Novo Nordisk meanwhile was also an extremely reliable business growing at around 10% that has now been transformed into one growing at 25%, courtesy of its weight loss drug Wegovy.

Our consumer companies in the main continue to generate decent top line growth, albeit mostly price led. Estée Lauder was unfortunately the exception with sales down 8% in its most recent report, but we saw outstanding performances from LVMH which grew 17%, PepsiCo which grew 14% and L'Oréal which grew 13%. However rising input costs have put pressure on margins, particularly gross margins or the difference between what it costs a company to make its products and what they can sell them for. Thus Procter & Gamble used to 'make things' for $0.50 and 'sell them' for $1.00 but now it costs $0.53 to make them. McCormick used to make things for $0.58 and sell them for $1.00, but now it makes them for $0.63. Estée Lauder used to make things for $0.20 and sell them for $1.00, now it costs $0.28 to make them. This still leaves our companies' gross margins way above those of the market average which means their bottom lines are better protected but they cannot completely offset these headwinds.

Of our stocks which don't fall into the above three sector categories, Waters 'only' grew sales at 3% where more recently we have benefited from two to three times this level of increase, and this meant that the stock had a poor first half.

Sales patterns at this type of business can be lumpy and we expect better in the second half. ADP also had a forgettable first half from a stock price perspective but this was presumably a function of how well the shares did in 2022 since from a business perspective, top line growth of 10% remains bang in line with the historic run rate.

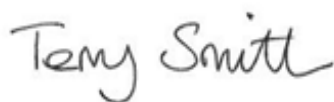

To sum up, conditions are tougher and our companies are mostly having to cope with slower revenue growth and/or higher input costs. However, that's what happens from time to time so we are mostly sanguine about it. We have a few more worries as a result but not a wholesale concern about what is happening.

Turning from company fundamentals to the macro environment, what level of interest rates will be required to tame inflation? We don't know. Will there be a recession? Of course, but we have no idea when. What will happen in Ukraine? We haven't a clue. Will China take action over Taiwan and how will the United States respond? We have no view. Even if we had we are not sure how markets would react.

Fortunately, it continues to be the case that we do not invest on the basis of our predictions about macroeconomics and geopolitics.

Whilst we await the outcome of these economic and geopolitical conundrums we will seek to continue to do what we set out to do. Which is to assemble a portfolio of high-quality companies and hold onto them so that their inherent ability to compound in value will determine how we perform over the long term.

Yours sincerely,

Terry Smith

The Sub-Fund is not managed with reference to any benchmark, the above comparators are provided for information purposes only.

The T Class Accumulation shares in Euros were up by 5.5% in the first six months of the year, 7.1 percentage points less than what is perhaps the most obvious comparator — the MSCI World Index (EUR net). (Note we do not hedge currency exposure and so the main difference in performance between the different currency share classes is due to currency movements in the period. These currency movements also impact the performance of the comparator, MSCI World Index.)

What did well for us in the first six months of 2023? Here are the five biggest positive contributors to performance:

Stryker benefited from the increase in elective surgical procedures which has resulted from the backlog caused by the pandemic.

Alphabet was our 5th best contributor despite the hullabaloo about generative artificial intelligence and how this might change online search.

The five biggest detractors from our Sub-Fund's performance during the period were:

Stock	Attribution
Waters	-1.3%
Estée Lauder	-1.0%
ADP	-0.5%
Mettler-Toledo	-0.5%
Johnson & Johnson	-0.4%

There is nothing obvious to note about the performance of Johnson & Johnson where the spin-off of Kenvue, the consumer healthcare business, began in May.

When considering sustainability, we analyse companies in the broadest possible sense, considering their negative impact on the environment and society and any positive contributions they may have through research and development. Environmental, social and governance ("ESG") factors are becoming increasingly important to all companies and can significantly influence their long-term performance. We view damaging activity across any of these factors as boosting current profits at the expense of long-term performance, which makes the businesses less sustainable and may harm long-term investments.

The companies constituting the FSEF portfolio have continued to demonstrate their commitment to avoiding the worst impacts of climate change. In the 2022 HY letter, we discussed how 61% of the portfolio was aligned with the Paris Agreement's goal of limiting global warming to 2°C compared to 35% of the assets managed by signatories to the Net Zero Asset Managers' initiative. This year, the proportion of the portfolio aligned with the Paris Agreement increased to 68% compared to the Net Zero Asset Managers' initiative's 39%. Around 12% of the portfolio has already achieved net zero carbon emissions. As a proportion of the Fund's total greenhouse gas emissions, 94% is committed to, or has already set, emission reduction plans with the Science Based Targets initiative. Further, 88% of the Fund's emissions are covered by a commitment to reaching net zero emissions with an average target year of 2037. We continue to track the progress companies in the portfolio make toward their net zero goals and engage with them when necessary.

We have been assessing the reputational impact associated with the success of Novo Nordisk's obesity drug Wegovy. While the success of Wegovy is good for us as investors in the company, there is a perception that it is becoming a lifestyle drug used by the rich at the expense of those who actually need it. Numerous celebrities, including Elon Musk, have publicly discussed their success in losing weight using the drug. Demand is so strong that many physicians in the US are prescribing the diabetes drug, Ozempic, instead of Wegovy, as it is effectively the same molecule, although at a lower concentration.

In response, we met with the company to try and understand how it was managing the risk to its reputation. When we first spoke to the CEO about this last year, he was unequivocal that the company didn't want Wegovy to become a lifestyle drug despite the impact on sales. Instead, the drug would only be available from a pharmacy with a doctor's prescription rather than over-the-counter or online. This position is because the most effective way to treat obesity is using Wegovy in combination with diet and lifestyle changes, which patients are more likely to adhere to when the treatment is being supplied by a doctor.

So far, Wegovy has only been launched in the US, Norway and the company's home market of Denmark. Despite the noise on social media, the average BMI of a patient in the US is 38 (i.e. the upper end of the obese range), and they have two or three comorbidities on average (e.g. type 2 diabetes, cardiovascular disease, hypertension etc.). We were therefore reassured that the company oppose the use of Wegovy as a lifestyle drug and that the medication is getting to suitable patients, despite some media reports to the contrary. Moreover there seems little doubt that its benefit is not limited to weight loss as it can ameliorate other serious comorbidities with significant benefit for the patient and the healthcare system.

On valuation, the free cash flow ("FCF") yield on the portfolio, which had ended 2022 at 3.1%, fell to about 2.9% at the end of June 2023 through a combination of the rise in share prices and continuing disruption in the conversion of profits into cash and consequent lack of free cash flow growth. It is impossible to be definitive with half year numbers, given seasonality and the fact that it is a short period, but our portfolio is more expensive than the S&P 500 Index on this measure although the S&P contains some extreme numbers such as major oil companies and some healthcare providers apparently on FCF yields of 20% or more.

Our portfolio turnover in the first half was 6.1%. Voluntary dealing (dealing not caused by redemptions or subscriptions) cost EUR 11,544 during the half year (0.004% or 0.4 of a basis point). The Ongoing Charges Figure for the T Class Accumulation shares was 1.11% and with the cost of all dealing added, the Total Cost of Investment was 1.12%.

We sold our stake in Adobe having highlighted our concerns about its proposed acquisition of Figma in our annual letter. The price being paid seems too high, although very little information on which to gauge this has been provided. It is possible that the deal will fail because of competition concerns, but even if it does we would be worried about what it reveals about the competitive threat to Adobe.

During the period we added positions in Marriott & Mastercard. Marriott is in our view the leading asset light (it operates hotel brands with the real estate provided by franchisees) hotel operator, and Mastercard maintains our exposure to the payment processing sector after our exit from PayPal.

Whilst I suspect that the Sub-Fund price performance is and will remain the primary focus of our investors, we try to remain focused on what is happening with the fundamental performance of these businesses.

At this time last year, we noted that despite the generally poor share price performances, the revenue growth of our portfolio was strong, bordering on very strong at some of our companies, albeit we noted prophetically that we might well be concerned about their ability to replicate this performance over the next couple of years.

Where are we now?

The past six months have seen a slowdown in revenue growth from our technology companies, a resilient performance from our healthcare stocks and continued pressure on the profitability of our consumer businesses.

Large technology companies have in a sense become victims of their own success. Their growth over the past decade means that they are now such a large part of the economies in which they operate that they have become inevitably more cyclical. At the time of the 2008-2009 recession, Apple, Microsoft, Alphabet and Meta had combined sales of USD 125 billion. Today, Apple generates three times that number on its own and the combined sales of these four companies are as near as makes no difference USD 1 trillion. As a result, the economic slowdown means that where Microsoft grew sales at 18% last year, we are looking at more like 7% this year. Meta is growing at about 8% where growth was previously well over 20%. Apple and Alphabet will almost certainly have down years in 2023 but we expect a decent bounce back in 2024.

In the healthcare sector, businesses like Stryker continue to benefit from pent-up demand after COVID which drove revenue growth in the company's most recent quarterly results of 13%, several points above its historical run rate. Others like Coloplast or IDEXX remain metronome-like in their reliability and generated revenue growth of 8% and 10% respectively. Novo Nordisk meanwhile was also an extremely reliable business growing at around 10% that has now been transformed into one growing at 25%, courtesy of its weight loss drug Wegovy.

Our consumer companies in the main continue to generate decent top line growth, albeit mostly price led. Estée Lauder was unfortunately the exception with sales down 8% in its most recent report, but we saw outstanding performances from PepsiCo which grew 14% and L'Oréal which grew 13%. However rising input costs have put pressure on margins, particularly gross margins or the difference between what it costs a company to make its products and what they can sell them for. Thus Procter & Gamble used to 'make things' for $0.50 and 'sell them' for $1.00 but now it costs $0.53 to make them. McCormick used to make things for $0.58 and sell them for $1.00, but now it makes them for $0.63. Estée Lauder used to make things for $0.20 and sell them for $1.00, now it costs $0.28 to make them. This still leaves our companies' gross margins way above those of the market average which means their bottom lines are better protected but they cannot completely offset these headwinds.

Of our stocks which don't fall into the above three sector categories, Waters 'only' grew sales at 3% where more recently we have benefited from two to three times this level of increase, and this meant that the stock had a poor first half. Sales patterns at this type of business can be lumpy and we expect better in the second half. ADP also had a forgettable first half from a stock price perspective but this was presumably a function of how well the shares did in 2022 since from a business perspective, top line growth of 10% remains bang in line with the historic run rate.

To sum up, conditions are tougher and our companies are mostly having to cope with slower revenue growth and/or higher input costs. However, that's what happens from time to time so we are mostly sanguine about it. We have a few more worries as a result but not a wholesale concern about what is happening.

Turning from company fundamentals to the macro environment, what level of interest rates will be required to tame inflation? We don't know. Will there be a recession? Of course, but we have no idea when. What will happen in Ukraine? We haven't a clue. Will China take action over Taiwan and how will the United States respond? We have no view. Even if we had we are not sure how markets would react.

Fortunately, it continues to be the case that we do not invest on the basis of our predictions about macroeconomics and geopolitics.

Whilst we await the outcome of these economic and geopolitical conundrums we will seek to continue to do what we set out to do. Which is to assemble a portfolio of high-quality companies and hold onto them so that their inherent ability to compound in value will determine how we perform over the long term.

1. The SICAV

Fundsmith SICAV (the “SICAV”), formerly Fundsmith Equity Fund SICAV, is an open-ended investment company incorporated under the laws of Luxembourg as a Société d'Investissement à Capital Variable in accordance with the provisions of Part I of the amended Law relating to Undertakings for Collective Investment of 17 December 2010 (“UCI Law”). The SICAV changed its name to Fundsmith SICAV on 1 March 2021 and the Articles were amended with effect on 1 March 2021. The SICAV is registered with the Luxembourg Trade and Companies Register under number B164404.

The SICAV has appointed FundRock Management Company S.A. (the “Management Company”) as its management company.

As at 30 June 2023, the SICAV consisted of two active sub-funds (the “Sub-Funds”):

Sub-Fund	Currency	Launch date

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied unless otherwise stated.

(a) Preparation of the Financial Statements

The combined primary statements of these financial statements (Statement of Net Assets and Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets) are the arithmetic sum of the financial statements of all Sub-Funds.

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Luxembourg.

This report is presented on the basis of the latest net asset value calculated during the financial period (i.e. 30 June 2023).

The reference currency of the SICAV and of each of its Sub-Funds is EUR and all the financial statements of the SICAV are presented in EUR.

(b) Foreign Currency Translation

Transactions and Balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the reference currency using the exchange rates prevailing on the dates of the transactions. Foreign currency assets and liabilities are translated into the base currency using the exchange rate prevailing at the Statement of Net Assets date and are detailed in Note 7.

Foreign exchange gains and losses arising from translation are included in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets.

(c) Valuation of Investments, Assets and Liabilities

The SICAV's investments, assets and liabilities are valued as follows:

(i) Investment Securities Valuation

In calculating a net asset value, the Administrator may consult the Management Company and the Investment Manager with respect to the valuation of certain investments. Whilst there is an inherent conflict of interest between the involvement of the Management Company/Investment Manager in determining the valuation price of the Sub-Funds' investments and the Management Company's/Investment Manager's other duties and responsibilities in relation to a Sub-Fund, the Management Company/Investment Manager will endeavour to resolve any such conflict of interest timely and fairly and in the interest of Shareholders.

The value of securities which are listed or dealt in on any stock exchange is based on the last available price at the point as at which the net asset value is determined.

The Board of Directors of the SICAV may adjust the value of any investment if having regard to its currency, marketability, applicable interest rates, anticipated rates of dividend, maturity, liquidity or any other relevant considerations, and deem such adjustment is required to reflect the fair value thereof.

Where the value of any investment is not ascertainable as described in the Articles, the value shall be the probable realisation value estimated by the Board of Directors of the SICAV, or by a competent person, with care and in good faith.

If the Board of Directors of the SICAV deem it necessary, a specific investment may be valued under an alternative method of valuation chosen by the Board of Directors of the SICAV.

(ii) Cash at Bank

Cash at bank includes cash on hand or on deposit valued at its nominal/face value.

(iii) Assets

Assets, which include dividend income receivable, bond interest receivable, subscriptions receivable, bank interest receivable, prepaid expenses and reclaims receivable, are valued at nominal value unless it appears unlikely that such nominal amount is obtainable.

(iv) Amounts due to Brokers

Amounts due to brokers include amounts payable for investment securities purchased and are valued at nominal value.

(v) Liabilities

Liabilities, which include expenses payable and redemptions payable, are valued at nominal value.

(d) Bond Interest

Bond interest is accrued on a daily basis, net of withholding tax.

(e) Dividend Income

Dividends are recognised on the date on which the shares concerned are quoted "ex-dividend", net of withholding tax.

(f) Distributions

The SICAV may issue accumulation and/or income shares within each Sub-Fund. Accumulation shares do not pay any dividends whereas income shares give their owners the right to receive distributions.

For the period ended 30 June 2023

(g) Total Net Asset Value

The total net asset value is equal to the difference between the total assets and the total liabilities of each Sub-Fund and the total net asset value of each share class is expressed in the reference currency of the relevant share class.

The net asset value per share is calculated as of each valuation day by dividing the total net asset value attributable to a share class by the total number of shares in issue or deemed to be in issue in that share class as of the relevant valuation day and rounding down the resulting total to two decimal places or such number of decimal places as the Board of Directors of the SICAV may determine.

(h) Transaction Costs

Transaction costs are costs incurred to acquire financial assets or liabilities at market value through profit or loss. They include fees and commissions paid to agents, advisers, brokers and dealers. They are included in the net realised gain/loss and net change in unrealised gain/loss balances on investments in the Statement of Operations and Changes in Net Assets. Transaction costs for the period ended 30 June 2023 are disclosed in Note 6.

(i) Swing Pricing

A Sub-Fund may suffer a reduction in value of its investments as a result of the transaction costs incurred in the purchase and sale of its underlying investments and of the spread between the buying and selling prices of such investments caused by subscriptions, redemptions and/or conversions in and out of the Sub-Fund. This is known as “dilution”. In order to counter this and to protect Shareholders’ interests, the Board of Directors may decide to apply “swing pricing” as part of the valuation policy. This will mean that in certain circumstances the Board of Directors may make adjustments in the calculations of the net asset values per share, to counter the impact of dealing and other costs on occasions when these are deemed to be significant.

If on any valuation day the aggregate value of transactions in shares of a Sub-Fund results in a net increase or decrease of shares which exceeds a threshold of 5% of such Sub-Fund’s net asset value (relating to the cost of market dealing for that Sub-Fund), the net asset value of the Sub-Fund will be adjusted by an amount (not exceeding 0.25% of the net asset value) which reflects both the estimated fiscal charges and dealing costs that may be incurred by the Sub-Fund and the estimated bid/offer spread of the assets in which the Sub-Fund invests. This maximum amount will not vary even in case of change in market conditions (i.e. it will not be increased in unusual market conditions). The adjustment will be an addition when the net movement results in an increase of all shares of a Sub-Fund and a deduction when it results in a decrease.

Both Sub-Funds are in scope of swing pricing and for both Sub-Funds no swing pricing was applied during the period.

As at 30 June 2023, no swing pricing was applied.

(j) Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with the Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. The Board of Directors of the SICAV may also disclose certain contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements which can affect income and expenses during the reported period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Fees

(a) Management Fees

The SICAV remunerates the Management Company, the Investment Manager and the Distributor for their services out of an aggregate management fee, which is payable monthly in arrears and accrued as of each valuation day.

The annual management fee rates applicable to the share classes are expressed as a percentage of the total net assets of each share class and are specified in the following table:

Appendix II – Risk Information

As part of the risk-management process, the global exposure of the Sub-Funds is calculated using the relative value at risk (“VaR”) approach. The benchmark used for the purpose of the calculation is MSCI World Index. The expected level of leverage for the Sub-Funds, calculated on the basis of the sum of the notionals, is 100% of the net asset value, although higher levels of leverage are possible.

VaR is calculated in the Sub-Fund’s currency using historical methodology with a one-year look back, 0.9950 decay, 20 day time horizon and 99% confidence interval.

The following table presents the level of leverage employed during the six months to 30 June 2023 and the lowest, highest and average utilisation of the VaR limit calculated during the same period:

Sub-Fund	Leverage			Average utilisation of VaR limit (200% - limit)
